

Supplementary information for:

Medical student attitudes toward healthcare sustainability education at a multi-site private United States medical school

Elisa Bass^{1*}, Rachel Fisher², Suraj Puvvadi³, Nisha Reddy³, Ewoma Ogbaudu^{1,4}, Chikodi Ohaya^{2,5}, and Neera Agrwal⁶

¹ Mayo Clinic Alix School of Medicine, Scottsdale, AZ, USA

² University of Arizona College of Medicine, Phoenix, AZ, USA

³ Arizona State University, Tempe, AZ, USA

⁴ Stanford University, Graduate School of Business, Stanford, CA, USA

⁵ Stanford University, Graduate Journalism Program, Stanford, CA, USA

⁶ Department of Internal Medicine, Mayo Clinic, Phoenix, AZ, USA

*Corresponding author: bass.elisa@mayo.edu (EB)

How to cite:

Bass, E., Fisher, R., Puvvadi, S., Reddy, N., Ogbaudu, E., Ohaya, C., Agrwal, N., 2025. Medical student attitudes toward healthcare sustainability education at a multi-site private United States medical school. Journal of Environmental Science, Health & Sustainability, 1(3), 217–226. <https://doi.org/10.63697/jeshs.2025.10046>

Supplementary data, Figure S1

1. Please create a unique identifier for yourself with the first letter of your first name and the last three digits of your phone number.

2. Year in Medical School

- M1
- M2
- M3
- M4
- Other

3. Have you been involved with healthcare sustainability in any capacity?

- Yes
- No

4. Expand on your answer above (optional)

5. Define healthcare sustainability in your own words (optional)

6. Which of the following is not an active focus of healthcare sustainability work at this time?

- Food as medicine
- Electric ambulances
- Reusable exam gloves
- Pain management alternatives
- Climate resilience

7. Rank these groups in order of level of responsibility for healthcare sustainability (1 - highest, 5 - lowest)

- Healthcare administrators
- Physicians
- Governmental regulators
- Corporate partners
- Insurance companies

8. Please rate your level of agreement with the following statements (Likert scale: Strongly disagree, Somewhat disagree, Neither agree nor disagree, Somewhat agree, Strongly agree):

- I know what healthcare sustainability is.
- My medical school curriculum provides sufficient education on healthcare sustainability.
- Healthcare sustainability should be required in medical training.
- There is currently enough work addressing sustainability in medicine.
- I want to be involved in healthcare sustainability work in my career.

[If Neither agree nor disagree, Somewhat agree or Strongly agree]

9. In your opinion, what stage of education should healthcare sustainability be taught in? Check all that apply:

- Preclinical medical school
- Clinical medical school
- Residency
- Post-residency

[If Preclinical medical school or Clinical medical school to question 9]

10. In what format should healthcare sustainability be taught? Check all that apply:

- Longitudinal coursework throughout medical school

- Integration as a theme throughout medical school
- Separate required course
- Separate Selective/Elective
- Student organization
- Other:

[If Somewhat agree or Strongly agree to the statement: I want to be involved in healthcare sustainability work in my career.]

11. In my career, I would like to be involved in healthcare sustainability in (Check all that apply):

- Healthcare policy/advocacy
- Clinical practice
- Medical education
- As a volunteer
- Other: